MATE CRIME

'Mate crime' is when someone pretends to be your friend because they want something from you.

They do things like:

- Bully you or ask you to do things for them.
- Use stuff that belongs to you without asking you.
- Borrow something from you but never give it back.
- Take your money - usually without you knowing.

TERRORISM

'Terrorism' is used to change the way people think about politics and beliefs.

They do things like:

- Pretend to be your friend, making you feel safe and wanted.
- Make you do things that you wouldn't have done before you met them.
- Get you to be unkind and hurt other people.

Awareness raising

- A large proportion is raising professionals awareness of the agenda not only within the authority but externally with third sector and partners as many do not understand the safeguarding nature of PREVENT.
- Interventions include awareness sessions with schools, community groups, commissioned services, third sector training, social media campaigns on debunking myths and misinformation around the agenda and promotion of its safeguarding ethos.
- Working with schools we have been also able to work with parents around themes which relate to PREVENT to increase resilience which include online risk, isolation and feelings of disempowerment which are aspects extremists seek to target to exploit those most vulnerable.

CHANNEL

- CHANNEL across Cleveland is bespoke as our regional figures are low in comparison to other areas.
- The CHANNEL panel is made up of multi disciplinary professionals whom all work towards assisting the vulnerable young person or adult build their resilience to the extremist narrative whilst moving them away from the risk
- CHANNEL operates on a consensual basis and can only operate on that basis, the individual has to consent to be willing to consider or facilitate the positive change in themselves, similar to that of an individual whom may seek help in a counselling relationship-they enter into a consensual relationship with a therapist to seek positive change for themselves.
