To who ever is reading this I am writing this email to show my support towards the landlady at the Cleveland huntsman. [REDACTED] has brought life back to that pub in by making the community to come back together and how her and her husband are so welcoming and make you feel safe while been inside the pub. I have never been in that pub before untill someone told me how amazing it is and much it helps you relax and forget about your problems. Having a pub like that in the middle of the community is amazing and how much of a gorgeous, clean place it is. It would really be a shame if her license go taken away as we really need something like this in the community.

Yours sincerely Jamie Hufton
